RYAN MARINE SERVICES

FALL 2008

FALL AND STORAGE SEASON

Another great summer is coming to an end, and while there is still time left in this boating season, now is the time to submit your work orders for winterization and storage. Work orders are processed on a first come first serve basis, so please don't delay.

It is a great time to upgrade your boat with new electronics, outboard repowering, and any other projects that you have been thinking about. Our major vendors are offering significant promotions and discounts to boost sales. As always, we offer storage, local and long distance hauling, shrink wrap, and service on all marine engines.

Our success and expansion has not changed our customer service commitment and high quality work that we are known for.

Please visit our website at ryanmarineservices.com for a comprehensive array of all the services that we offer, and stop by the new shop and showroom to see our current projects and discuss your boating needs.

We look forward to serving you this season and in the future.

RYAN MARINE NEWS

This has been an eventful year for Ryan Marine. We purchased a new facility on Lincoln Ave in Marblehead, completed construction and moved in time for our hectic spring season. Electronics and outboard repower projects have kept us busy this summer. It is hard to believe that we are aggressively preparing for the fall season. This year seems to have gone by particularly fast.

Our new facility will enable us to work on many projects simultaneously. The indoor work area is state of the art and can handle boats up to 65 feet. Now is the time to schedule any winter project or repairs you have been considering.

In the next couple of weeks we will be launching our new website. This will include a live webcam that will cover most of Marblehead harbor. Once logged on you will have full control of the camera. Visit the website to see these exciting updates.

As always our goal is to focus on our present customer base and offer the best service around. To reach this goal we have expanded our storage and hauling capabilities, obtained new dealerships and acquired some key employees. Please give us a call or send us an email anytime that you have a question or concern.
